U.S. District Judge Nelva Gonzales Ramos
c/o David J. Bradley, Clerk of Court
1133 N. Shoreline Blvd
Corpus Christi, TX 78401

Dear Judge Ramos,

Enclosed is a duplicate copy of the August 20, 2016 letter I mailed to Harris County Clerk Stan Stanart and Harris County District Attorney Devon Anderson. I have yet to receive a response from either person. Now my fear of prosecution is even greater. Texas Attorney General Ken Paxton is threatening to arrest me for perjury if I try to vote.

"If you sign that affidavit and you lie about not being able to get a photo ID, you can be prosecuted for perjury," [Texas Attorney General Ken] Paxton said on Fox News last month.

[Harris County Clerk Stan] Stanart has said his office would investigate every voter who signs an affidavit and that "if I suspect someone has fraudulently signed a form saying they don't have that ID, then I think that's an issue."

—From Houston Chronicle, September 9, 2016, editorial entitled
"Prepare to vote: Texans can still vote even if they don't have one of seven approved forms of voter ID."

Sincerely yours,

Ward Larkin

Dear Sirs:

I read today's Houston Chronicle with great interest. I've enclosed a photocopy of a portion of an article about voting rights. [See, especially, the highlighted area.]

By his threat of criminal action Mr. Stanart has succeeded in discouraging me from asserting my right to vote in the next election. I am afraid that 20 seconds after I vote I will be arrested.

It appears that this is a strategic plan by Mr. Stanart to limit public participation in the voting process in Harris County, Texas.

Sincerely yours,

DUPLICATE
